MINISTRY & LIFE PERSPECTIVES

Peace Be With You

With all that we have experienced this past year, being at peace was most likely not at the top of our list. We may more easily identify with fear, or anxiety, or even anger. Peace might well be something we have longed for. This day in John's Gospel, we hear proclaimed how Jesus appeared to his disciples who were held up in a room, seemingly paralyzed with fear and anxiety because of what they had experienced in the recent past. Then Jesus appears and speaks an incredibly gentle and caring message:

Peace be with you. And again, Peace be with you.

Can you imagine what that was like for his devoted followers – first, to see Jesus again in the flesh and then to hear his kind words? We can almost hear the anxiety being exhaled by the disciples in receiving this message from Jesus. These were the men who had betrayed him, denied even knowing him. These were the men who had fallen asleep when Jesus asked them to stay with him in the garden of Gethsemane as he prayed to his Father. Surely, Jesus would not be happy with them.

Yet he greeted them with tenderness and words of peace. In doing so, Jesus continued to teach. He taught that even in the tough times, when we might not make the best decisions, he will not leave us. He will be there to comfort and console us. He will be there to bless us with peace of mind and heart. He will love us always.

That is what we celebrate as an Easter people! Jesus is alive and he is with us for all time. Our faith in him gifts us with a "new lease on life". We are saved from the destruction of sin. Our sins are forgiven. We, too, can receive the gift of Peace.

What can we do but rejoice and sing alleluia? What can we do but share the Good News? What can we do but be grateful for the gift of salvation and eternal life with God?

Celebrate these seven weeks of Easter and let the Peace of Christ be with you.

With joy in the Risen Christ,
Deb Rudolph

STEWARDSHIP

The time we are given on earth is time gifted to us by our Creator God. It is good that we cultivate our relationship with God. Friends spend time together, sharing and listening.

Consider: Am I setting aside daily time to pray with my Creator, my divine friend, God?

When you feel like you have no time to spare, that is the time to increase your time to pray.

This week: Try to step up your time with God. Read a prayer from the Psalms of the Bible. Sit quietly with God and listen well.

Divorced, Widowed, or Separated? A Beginning Experience (B.E.) one-day workshop will be held on April 24 at Sacred Heart Church. This program is designated to facilitate the grief resolution process of those who are suffering from a loss of a significant person, thereby enabling them to again love themselves, others & God. The workshop fee is $55, which includes the programs costs, and lunch. For more information or to receive an application, call 320-319-8863. www.beginningexperiencemn.com

ST. FRANCIS XAVIER PARISH

Return to me, with all your heart. Joel 2.12

This line from the prophet Joel is an invitation to turn back to God, perhaps after a person has been away for some time. It also calls to mind returning to the obligation for weekly Eucharist. More than a year ago, for the first time in our lives the obligation to attend Mass on Sunday was removed. This was not an easy decision, however a wise and necessary one that served to protect people and save lives. How important it was for the Catholic Church to stand in solidarity and take action for the common good.

We are nearing the time when the obligation to gather as community and pray together the Mass will return. For many this will be a blessing, a return to a normal that was put on hold for far longer than we ever imagined. Others may have become comfortable with praying the Mass via live-stream and appreciated not having to leave home to do so. And for some, the live-stream Mass provided an opportunity to return to Mass, in a safe and private way, without judgment. I have heard from more than one person that praying the Mass at home with family has been a rewarding experience which prompted many conversations about the Scripture Readings and homily providing a new experience of faith that otherwise may not have happened. For that we are grateful.

So, when we are able again, and even beckoned by our Church to re-instate the obligation to be at Mass in a Church on Sundays and Holy Days, will you join with your brothers and sisters in faith? The Church in her wisdom understands the needs of all people to have a relationship with God – Father, Son and Holy Spirit AND to be in relationship with one another. Our experience of lived faith is made stronger as we come to know one another. Jesus gave us the Greatest Commandments, Love God, and Love Your Neighbor – we need these relationships in our lives that we might become all God intended we be.

It might be good to engage in conversations with family and friends about living once again the obligation to weekly celebrations of the Eucharist. Prepare your hearts, ask God for guidance and strength to commit once again to a practice that is sure to provide a blessed experience for all who participate.

Lord be with us each day as we make efforts to deepen our relationship with you and our brothers and sisters in faith. Guide us in our commitment to weekly celebration of the Eucharist when we gather as one body in Christ.

Bless us all with the grace to live as your disciples in relationship with you and your people. Amen.

In faith,
Deb Rudolph
